Aaron Ross LEED AP

bnim PRINCIPAL | DIRECTOR OF LANDSCAPE ARCHITECTURE

Aaron Ross is a Principal and the Director of BNIM's Landscape Architecture practice. His approach to interdisciplinary collaboration, thought leadership, and design excellence is shaping the landscape-planning studio into an innovative and agile practice that is redefining the role of landscape architecture by bringing nature back into the built environment and weaving together landscape and place. His work bridges planning, urban design, landscape architecture, and architecture to find integrated and transformative solutions to increasingly complex urban challenges.

His recent experience includes the Pacific Center Campus Development, Paragon Star Mixed-Use Development, the Henry W. Bloch School of Entrepreneurship and Innovation, the Grand Boulevard Master Plan, Kansas City Downtown Area Plan, the Branson Highway 76 Master Plan Project, and Westport Presbyterian Church.
