Gretchen Holy IIDA

bnim ASSOCIATE PRINCIPAL | DIRECTOR OF DESIGN FOR INTERIORS

Gretchen Holy, IIDA, brings more than 20 years of professional experience, leading programming, space planning and furniture specification efforts for a wide range of projects including higher education, government buildings, and corporate offices. Gretchen's experience with BNIM includes providing programming and interior design services for the Henry W. Bloch Executive Hall for Entrepreneurship and Innovation at the University of Missouri-Kansas City. The state-of-the-art building has set a new bar for business schools across the country and globally. She is also working on transforming two historic library facilities at the Georgia Institute of Technology into the Research Library of the 21st Century.
