Janell Rock IIDA LEED AP

bnim ASSOCIATE PRINCIPAL | DIRECTOR OF DESIGN FOR INTERIORS

Over the past 25+ years, Janell has played an integral role in a wide variety of highly successful projects for universities, workplaces, governmental entities, performing arts centers, and community spaces. Her experience includes the Lewis Center for the Performing Arts at Princeton University; the new REACH expansion at the John F. Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts in Washington, DC; Seaton Hall Renovation & Expansion at Kansas State University; and the recently completed School of Music at University of Missouri in Columbia.

Recently Janell has served as an integral team member for a renovation of Moffitt Library into the Center for Connected Learning undergraduate hub at UC Berkeley. She also contributed to the expansion and renovation of North Kansas City High School.

Janell's strong desire to pursue the beautiful and seamless integration of architecture and interior design, along with her client-centered approach, fuels her enthusiasm for every project.
