Josh Harrold AIA NCARB

bnim ASSOCIATE

Josh is an Associate at BNIM with more than 14 years of experience, creating a body of work that has received regional and national awards. Josh is focused on the intersections of architecture, landscape, interiors, objects, and technologies, with a mission to improve the relationship between people's needs, desires, and capacities in the built environment. Josh is an ideas based architect who operates between the duality of equaled and bound excitement and focus, idealism and pragmatism, physical and metaphysical. He believes design is essential to quality of life and rooted in thorough analysis, rigorous investigation, and meticulous execution.

While at BNIM, Josh has applied this approach to the design of the Frontier School of Excellence Gymnasium, Seaton Hall at Kansas State University, and Academie Lafayette's new entrance. He has also worked on the firm's headquarters, Building Positive, a prototype for the interplay of four of the most stringent sustainable design standards.
