bnim PRINCIPAL | PRESIDENT

As BNIM's Director of Design, Steve McDowell is an innovator, and his workplace is a laboratory for exploring ideas related to site, environment and technical investigation. He believes in a lively exchange of thoughts to stimulate exploration and sustain innovation. Steve maintains that good design is about people — their health, productivity, and lifting the human spirit through design. His work is setting new standards in high performance design with projects such as the Price Gilbert + Crosland Tower Library Renewal at Georgia Tech; the Pacific Center Campus Development in San Diego; and the Henry W. Bloch Executive Hall for Entrepreneurship and Innovation at the University of Missouri-Kansas City. Under his leadership, BNIM received the American Institute of Architects Firm Award in 2011.
